Rahab's story, found in the Book of Joshua, is one of courage, faith, and redemption. Despite her occupation as a prostitute and her status as an outsider in Jericho, Rahab became a critical figure in God's plan for the Israelites.

Her actions not only saved her family but also demonstrated unwavering faith in the God of Israel, even when it meant risking her life. Rahab's inclusion in the lineage of Christ (Matthew 1:5) and her mention in the "Hall of Faith" (Hebrews 11:31) serve as profound reminders that God's grace knows no bounds.

Over the next 30 days, we will take a look at her journey—from her bold decision to protect the Israelite spies to her transformation and role in God's redemptive plan.

Each day will include reflection questions to help you meditate on the lessons from her life and how they can inspire us as daughters of God.
